"It's pretty apparent from the election that the majority of the voters are pretty satisfied with the direction of the city," said Greg Potnick, who ran unsuccessfully for mayor on last week's ballot.

He was talking about his campaign to unseat current mayor Christopher Cabaldon. But it is as good an explanation as any for the rest of the city's local election results as well. Local voters not only returned Cabaldon for another two-year term, but they re-elected (easily) the incumbents running for re-election to the city council and school board.

Mark Johannessen, the city council member up for re-election to a second four-year term, led a pack of three candidates in a race that would turn the top to vote-getters into council members. He took 39.3 percent of the vote to challenger Chris Ledesma's 37.6 percent. Both men will get a seat on the council. Challenger Ed Hensley, drawing 23 percent of the vote, will not.

Sandra Vargas was handed another four-year term on the school board. She earned 33.9 percent of the vote in that four-way race. In second place was challenger Adam Menke, an engineer, who took 29.5 percent of the vote and will also win a place on the board. Coming up short in that race were Heather F. Wright (26.9 percent) and Walt R. Bowman (9.8 percent).

Potnick is a former mayor and city council member who was making a bid to be mayor again.

"We worked hard to get a message out, to ask for a little more public involvement and public discussion in local government," he told the News-Ledger. But he couldn't sell the message – Cabaldon took 63.9 percent of the vote to Potnick's 36.1 percent.

"I was a little surprised by the precinct results," said Potnick. "I thought I would have a better showing than that in my old neighborhood."

Potnick was a longtime resident of the area near Westmore Oaks School and Park Boulevard – where Cabaldon lives now. Potnick now lives in the north of West Sacramento. The Yolo County Elections Office shows Cabaldon ahead in votes in every city precinct save one – Precinct 1, in the far northwest corner of the city, where the two candidates tied at 196 votes apiece.

The two candidates didn't differ much on any particular city issues, although Potnick made the case that city government had drifted out of touch with the people who lived here. Potnick drew support from the local police and firefighters' unions, while Cabaldon's campaign showed support from a lot of business and development interests.

Potnick told the News-Ledger he planned to stay active in city issues, but it was too soon to say if he would run for mayor again in 2012.

Cabaldon pretty much agreed with Potnick's assessment of the voters' mood.

"The election shows West Sacramento is on the right track, and we've got some significant challenges ahead, like the rest of the region and the country," Cabaldon told the News-Ledger. "There weren't a lot of issues raised in the campaigns, or in any of the campaigns. In the school board race, council race and mayor's race, there was a lot of consensus."

Chris Ledesma, a banker who works with small businesses, will be a new face on the city council in January.

"It was a good campaign," he told the News-Ledger, referring to the competition from incumbent Mark Johannessen and fellow challenger Ed Hensley. "It was a good, clean, honest campaign, and I appreciated that."

What will Ledesma try to do as a councilman?

"I will do what I can do to work with existing council members and see what we can do to improve economic development and jobs," said Ledesma. "Jobs and growth. I will try to be a voice for winning over the businesses that are here to keep them here, and to talk to new businesses about coming here."

Ledesma will be sworn in as a new councilman in a 6:30 p.m. ceremony on Dec. 1 at city hall, Johannessen will retain his seat, and long-time council member Wes Beers will step down on that date. Beers did not seek re-election.

On the Washington Unified School District side of things, school board member Matt Stegman will have his last board meeting later this month. He did not seek re-election. Newcomer Adam Menke will take a seat on the board at 6 p.m. on Dec. 9 at city hall.

Menke told the News-Ledger:

"It's an honor and a privilege to be voted onto the school board by the community of West Sacramento."

He added that he planned to "work with other board members" in pushing the school district in a positive direction.

Is there anything in particular on his agenda as a new WUSD trustee?

"There's nothing in particular that I want to put out there right now," said Menke.

Revamped Harbor Blvd interchange celebrated

Representatives from West Sacramento, CalTrans and elsewhere joined in cutting the ribbon for a largely-finished redesign and expansion of the city's US 50/Harbor Blvd. interchange on Monday.

The $34.7 million project was accomplished with "largely federal money," Mayor Christopher Cabaldon told the News-Ledger. Other Yolo County jurisdictions helped keep this project on the top of a list of priorities for federal help.

The interchange is now changed into a "partial cloverleaf," expanded to six lanes.

The West Sacramento Fire Department helped throw a fundraiser for the West Sacramento Christmas Basket Project on Oct. 30. At $5 per plate, the event helped raise money for the charity to distribute food and toys during the holiday season.

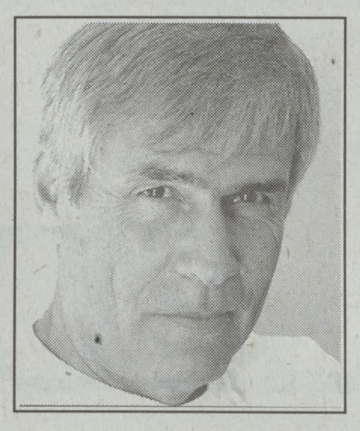
My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

Note: With Veterans Day just around the corner, I thought I would re-run the very first Veterans Day column I ever wrote, almost 20 years ago, the thought being that as long as someone is remembered, then they never really die.

Twenty-one year old Michael Lawhon arrived in Phu Loi, Vietnam in early August of 1969. He was assigned to Delta Troop's Alpha Squad, of which I was a member, and no one was happier to see him than me.

At that time, unwritten standard operating procedure in the First Infantry Division required the new guys to walk their squad's point position, a job which I had been reluctantly performing since my arrival in mid-July.

Search and destroy missions in Vietnam were often organized in such a way that made ambushes almost impossible to avoid, and being the squad pointman was a dangerous task which almost no one wanted to do a day longer than required. Veteran soldiers in general, and short-timers in particular, wanted no part of walking the point, and for better or worse, the new guys always got stuck with that difficult and hazardous job.

Shortly after our squad leader had informed Michael that the pointman job was now his, he strolled into my hootch and introduced himself. He wanted to know just what a pointman was required to do and if it was really as dangerous as everyone had been telling him. We sat down on my bunk and began to talk. And two or three hours later, we were still talking, and I felt like I had made a much-needed new friend in Vietnam.

Michael was my same age, blond, blue-eyed, and disarmingly shy. He was from a small town in the Midwest and talked nostalgically about growing up in rural America. He was very attached to his family and concerned that they were worrying about him too much.

I told him what little I had been able to learn about walking point, including how the Vietcong usually marked their booby-traps with three rocks, or three knots in a nearby vine, or three of something, and how important it was to stay off trails and rice paddy mounds. I also told him that his ears would probably be even more valuable to him than his eyes.

"So, there's a lot of luck involved in this?" he asked me.

"I'm afraid so," I told him.

"Well," he said with a confident smile, "I'm a really lucky guy."

On the late afternoon of August 11, 1969, our 28-man aero rifle platoon was scrambled out of Phu Loi and flown on four transport helicopters to a sector of what was called the Iron Triangle. As we arrived on station, we could see red smoke from a number of popped grenades, which marked suspected enemy positions, slowly filtering its way up through the double canopy jungle. We landed about a half-mile away, and with Michael and Alpha Squad leading the way, we began a cautious approach to what our ground commanding officer told us was probably an enemy base camp.

We had completed an exhausting mission earlier that morning and everyone was tired and unenthusiastic about starting a second mission so late in the day. Our major, however, who was flying high above our position in his command helicopter, had been informed by the pilots of a hunter-killer team that enemy dead had been confirmed just to the front of us and he wanted those bodies identified, counted and searched.

Michael quickly discovered one dead Vietcong and after Headquarter's Squad moved to the front and examined the body, our major ordered the platoon to continue moving forward in search of others.

A number of veteran soldiers later told me that they were sure we were walking into an ambush, but I was almost as new to ground combat as Michael and I don't think either one of us had the foggiest idea of what was about to happen next.

I had Michael and the Kit Carson Scout kneeling just behind him in view when the first shots rang out, but I lost sight of both of them when I dove for the safety of the earth. All was suddenly chaos, with some guys screaming orders and others screaming in pain. No one seemed to know exactly where the deafening sound of the enemy automatic weapons fire was coming from, but it felt like it was all around us. Then, as the platoon began to fight back, the ambush ended just as suddenly as it had begun.

The whole platoon stayed hunkered down until radio communications had been re-established between squads. Then the major radioed down that he wanted us to gather up our dead and wounded and return as quickly as possible to the landing zone for extraction. But with lots of enemy fighters still in the area, it turned out to be hours before we could successfully do that, and a nearby infantry unit had to be called in to help us get safely back to our transport helicopters.

I heard it first over the radio I was carrying for our squad leader. The platoon has suffered two confirmed dead – and Michael Lawhon was one of them.

I have often heard, and I have come to believe, that if people who have touched our lives are remembered, then they never really die. And Michael Lawhon, still young and full of dreams about what he wanted to do with his life, will always be very much alive to me.

A number of veteran soldiers later told me that they were sure we were walking into an ambush, but I was almost as new to ground combat as Michael and I don't think either one of us had the foggiest idea of what was about to happen next.

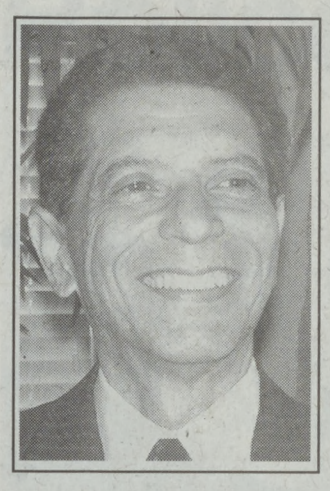
SPORTS INSIDER



By Rich Novoa

Somebody break up the Oakland Raiders! Da Raiders are on a nice roll and have won three games in row for the first time since 2002 when they represented the AFC in the Super Bowl. The Raiders improved to 5-4 and moved within one-half game of the division leading Kansas City Chiefs with their stunning 23-20 overtime win over the Chiefs.

The Raiders, who actually sold-out a home game for the first time in 12 games, are now playing above the .500 mark for only the second time since the 2002 season. The win for the Silver and Black was their third in row which another milestone they haven't reached since their Super Bowl year in 2002.

The Raiders, who entered the game leading the league in penalties (76) and penalty yards (657), rebounded from 10-point deficit and added another 15 penalties to their record but they didn't disappoint their rain drenched crowd of 61,935 with their shoddy play.

Sebastian Janikowski made a 41-yard field goal to tie the game with just three seconds left in regulations, then won it for the Silver & Black attack with 33-yarder in overtime.

I tip my cap to coach Cable for turning around Da Raiders' losing attitude, and applaud the major strides in quest to return Da Raiders to their glory years of past which is more than I can say about the Dallas head coach, Wade Phillips, who was fired on Monday night by Cowboys owner Jerry Jones. Everybody loves a winner!

Kings Korner

Kings (3-3) overcame a double-digit deficit for the second straight game to win their home opener against Toronto 111-108. It was Tyreke Evans who dropped in 23 points in the home-opening win over the Raptors at a sold-out ARCO Arena. For the first time since the 2003-04 season, the Kings began the season with a 3-1 record. Newly acquired center, Samuel Dalembert, came off the bench to grab 14 rebounds against the Raptors in just 22 minutes.

The Lakers came to town on Wednesday night and as usual the Lakers won. Kobe Bryant recorded his 17th career triple-double with a game-high 30 points, 10 rebounds, and 12 assists in leading the Lakers to a 112-100 win over the Kings at ARCO Arena. The Lakers have won 13 of the last 15 meetings against the Kings, including the eight of the last nine at ARCO Arena.

Against the Lakers, Tyreke Evans tallied a team-high 21 points, reaching the 20-point plateau for the third straight game. Carl Landry, Beno Udrih, and Francisco Garcia each added 17 points. Rookie DeMarcus Cousins scored 11 points, reaching double-figures in scoring for the fifth straight game. Samuel Dalembert and Jason Thompson each grabbed a team-high 10 rebounds.

Tyreke Evans scored a team-high 30 points, his fifth career 30-point effort in a 100-91 losing effort against Memphis on Saturday night. Samuel Dalembert, making his first start as a King, finished with eight points, a game-high 12 rebounds, three assists, one steal, and five blocks. Francisco Garcia added 21 points off the bench.

The Kings (4-3) will be home on Saturday night against Minnesota followed by a quick road trip to Phoenix on Friday night. Sacramento will return to the Arco for a 3 p.m. game on Sunday, November 14th against Detroit followed by Wednesday night game against New York (7 p.m.).

Mountain Lions

The Sacramento Mountain (3-4) Lions kept their UFL title game hopes alive by building a huge first-half lead and the hung on late to defeat first-place Las Vegas, 27-24, Saturday night at Sam Boyd Stadium. The Lions needed a 44-yard fourth quarter field goal by Fabrizzio Scaccia to earn the Lions a victory over the Las Vegas Locos on Saturday night to keep all five United Football League teams in the hunt for a berth in the 2010 Championship.

Sacramento now hosts Omaha (8 p.m.) in Week 9 in its final regular season contest and now knows that they have to defeat the Omaha Nighthawks (3-3) at Hornet Stadium on Saturday, November 13th to make the playoffs. A loss to Omaha will serve as an eliminator, while a 4-4 finish could force a tiebreaker provided other results go their way.

NFL Week 10

The 49ers (2-6) return to action on Sunday, November 14th (1:00 p.m.) against the first place St. Louis Rams. The Niners must win especially after enjoying their Bye Week if they expect to make a run at the divisional title. It's a big stretch to assume the 49ers are still in the playoff race but the Niners do play the Rams twice and still have one more divisional game against Seattle at home and two more against Arizona.

The Niners will use Troy Smith at quarterback and will have most of their injured players returning to action against the surprisingly tough St. Louis Rams but even with that said the 49ers are 5-point favorites.

The Oakland Raiders (5-4) will take the week off to heal their walking wounded and return to action next week with a season make or break game in Pittsburgh.

King Kahili's Picks

My dog's record now stands at a respectable (16-17-1) even though he lost his "college pick" again and the Vikings and Brett Favre didn't cover the nine points but he won with Da Raiders, Giants, and Bucs (+9).

This week Kahili likes the Boise St (-34) over Idaho in this "College Lick of the Week" and in the NFL the Colts (-7) will win at home against Cincinnati, Tampa Bay (-8) at home will cage the Panthers, 49ers (-6) win at home against the Lambs and the Bills (-3) will win their first game of the season at the expense of the quarter less Detroit Lions.

Enjoy your day – see ya next week!

A single bump on the road to the playoffs

RIGHT: T.J. Soto with the ball for the Raiders. Soto scored a six-yard touchdown in Friday's 36-14 loss to Union Mine.

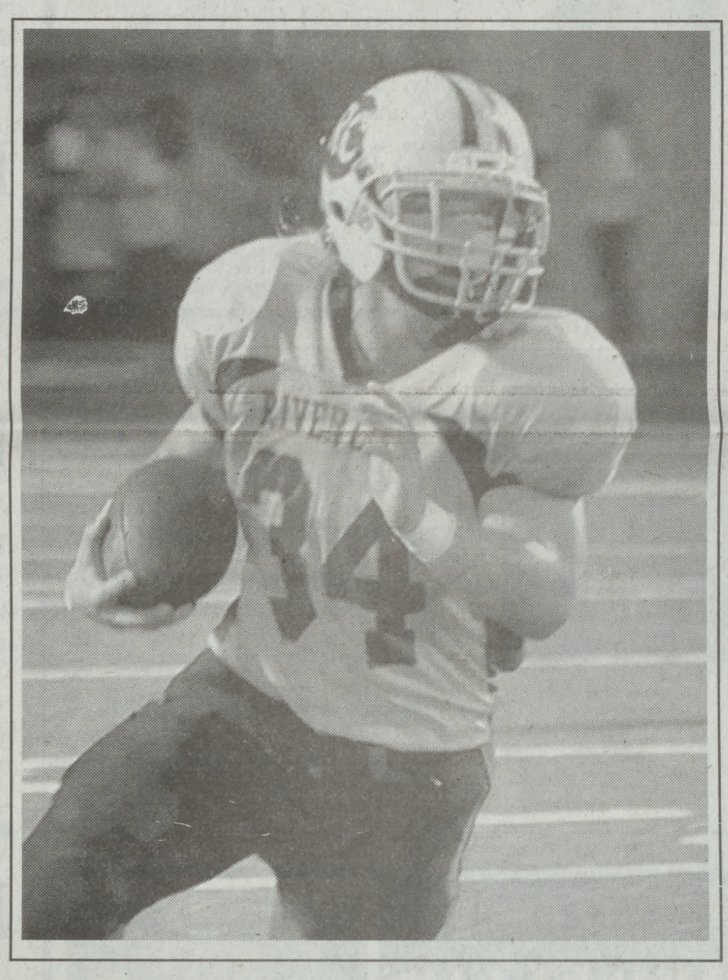
Info & photos by DE'ONNA JACK

It took the whole regular season to do it, but somebody finally beat the River City High varsity football team this year.

River City took it's nine game win streak on the road to face the 7-1 Union Mine Diamondbacks in El Dorado last Friday night. The result was 36-14 Union Mine victory that put the Sierra Valley Conference into a 3-way tie for first place. Union Mine, River City and Vista del Lago will share the S.V.C. Championship and all three teams will advance to the Sac-Joaquin Playoffs.

This Friday at 7 p.m., the Raiders will take on Rocklin, at home, in their first playoff game. Tickets will be pre-sold tonight (Nov. 10) at the ticket booth on the River City field, between 6-7:30 p.m. Tickets are $9 for adults and $5 for children.

On Friday, Union Mine scored on its first play from scrimmage with star sophomore tailback Sean Tow. Tow scored again later in the quarter as the Diamondbacks took an early 13-0 lead. River City stormed back in the 2nd quarter with a 6-yard touchdown run from T.J. Soto and a 38-yard touchdown scamper from Uriah Clark. Mario Morales kicked both extra points as River City assumed a 14-13 halftime lead.



RCHS junior Uriah Clark takes the ball upfield. Clark broke tackles to score for the Raiders on a 38-yard run.

After River City's first drive of the 3rd quarter stalled at the Union Mine six yard line, the Diamondbacks put together a 94-yard TD drive to pull ahead once again. Union Mine controlled the remainder of the game with their running game and shut down the River City offense. The Raiders turned the ball over four times and the defense allowed Tow to rush for 311yards on 31 carries with 5 touchdowns. Head Coach Art Bustamante was obviously disappointed:

"We just seemed to break down in the third quarter. We pride ourselves on being a strong second half team, but they were the ones that took control tonight. I give them a lot of credit. Fortunately, we have a chance to redeem ourselves in the playoffs."

RIGHT: The River City High School girls basketball team, with coaches

West Sacramento veterans were treated to a free breakfast last Sunday by the River City Lady Raider basketball team. The event was held at the Post #8762 VFW Hall in West Sacramento with RCHS student athletes doing the cooking and serving as a way of expressing their appreciation for all that veterans have done to keep their country free and strong.

"All of the members of the VFW and the Ladies Auxiliary are deeply honored and humbled by what these thoughtful youngsters did," said Post Commander Gary Reason. "It really gives you a good feeling about today's youth to know they are appreciative of what veterans have done for their country and it was a perfect way to help us celebrate Veterans Day."

RCHS water polo

The River City High School boys water polo team made it to the playoffs in this, its second season.

But the team's season came to an end with that game.

Oakmont defeated the Raiders on Friday, 15-6.

RCHS volleyball

The River City girls volleyball team has reported results from the past 10 days or so.

On Nov. 3, the squad played Liberty Ranch High School. The Raider varsity team lost 0-3, while the junior varsity and freshman squads each beat Liberty Ranch 2-0.

On Nov. 1, the team played at Cosumnes Oaks High.

River City's varsity won 3-1, and the RCHS jayvees won 2-0.

Manor were presented with a gift card for their recycling efforts! The Rivers Senior Complex used their gift card to purchase movies for the complex's regular movie nights to reward residents for their efforts. Margaret McDowell Manor will be using their reward to help fund a celebratory lunch for their residents on December 9, 2010.

While this contest ends this month, commercial customers are encouraged to sign up for the spring recycling contest – "Cash for Trash." This contest is similar to the current Cash for Recycling contest for multi-family dwellings, but it focuses on Waste Management's commercial recycling customers. Commercial businesses with Waste Management recycling will be asked to submit entry forms for the contest and each month an applicant will be chosen. The City of West Sacramento and Waste Management staff will then review the applicant's waste bin contents, and provide a cash prize if the bin contains very few recyclables. The business can then use that money to host a celebratory recycling party for their staff.

To sign up for the commercial recycling program, call the West Sacramento Division of Recycling at (916) 617-4590. The sooner you start recycling, the sooner you too can enter the "Cash for Trash" contest!

In addition to Waste Management and the City of West Sacramento, "Cash for Recycling" is also funded in part through a grant awarded by the Department of Resources Recycling and Recovery (CalRecycle).

Letters to the Editor

Thanks, voters

I wanted to personally thank the community for their support and encouragement during my campaign for Mayor of West Sacramento. Although I was not successful, the campaign was able to develop a strong public discussion on issues facing West Sacramento and our vision for the future. I was so lucky to talk with literally thousands of residents, have meaningful discussions and hear what was on the mind of the community. The residents of West Sacramento are deeply involved and informed about their City. That is a wonderful opportunity for the Mayor and City Council. Collectively, there is nothing that can stop or slow the progress of West Sacramento.

West Sacramento is a wonderful place to live and the people that are fortunate to reside here know exactly what I mean when I call our beautiful city home. My best to Mayor Cabaldon on his decisive victory. Also, congratulations to Councilmember Mark Johannessen and Councilmember-elect Chris Ledesma.

Again, thank you for your support and please stay informed and involved in the decision making process of West Sacramento.

Downtown looks great

Our downtown 'Street of Dreams' has captured the imagination of everyone experiencing all the changes along West Capitol Avenue. The spruced up sidewalks, newly planted trees, and pretty ground cover has added to the beautification of our city, and the new community college, library, and state-of-the-art community center are making our downtown area the place to visit and shop with pride.

Let us congratulate our mayor and city council for their excellent leadership and for modernizing our wonderful community. Our future is in our hands and our voices can continue to make for the betterment of our city!

Your help needed

Once again, we reach out to the community to help the West Sacramento Christmas Basket Project provide a good holiday meal for those in need. This year is looking to be the most tremendous effort yet. So many folks are in dire need due to the downturn in our economy. Many have lost jobs, homes and hope. Let us be able to help our fellow West Sacramentans at least have a good nutritious meal this holiday.

For the past 38 years we have worked with various businesses, churches, service organizations and concerned individuals to provide this meal. In the past we have averaged 900 families, but it looks more like 1,000 families will be needing our services this year. Through the tireless efforts of volunteers, community partners and friends, our gifts have been applied 100% to those who need it most.

Please make a generous contribution now with a check made payable to the West Sacramento Christmas Basket Project, PO Box 1236, West Sacramento, CA 95605-1236. The monies will go first to filling the needs for food, and prices have gone up substantially. Any extra will go to toys. For additional information, call 372-3360.

Retired teachers care

Got $54 million? No problem...retired teachers are working for FREE!

The week of November 7-13, 2010 is California's twelfth annual Retired Teachers Week. As a member of the California Retired Teachers Association, I urge everyone to find a way to give back to our community. Even during these tough economic times, California's retired educators are among our community's most tireless volunteers. Statewide, CalRTA members logged nearly 2.6 million hours of service to their communities. That's worth more than $54 million in services!

Anywhere you go in Yolo County, you are likely to find retired teacher volunteers. They tutor in the local schools, distribute food to those in need, drive seniors to appointments, and work at hospitals.

Since 1998, the California Retired Teachers Association has sponsored Retired Teachers Week as a way to not only spotlight our members' extensive volunteerism, but to encourage others to do the same. Those champion volunteers would certainly say that they have received much more than they have given!

We cared about our students and our communities while we worked as educators, and that caring doesn't stop at retirement! Join our call to give back. You'll find the effort is well worth your time.

Recycling award

Waste Management, the City of West Sacramento and CalRecycle are proud to announce The Rivers Senior Complex and Margaret McDowell Manor as the September and October (respectively) winners of the Waste Management "Cash for Recycling" contest. The Rivers Senior Complex and Margaret McDowell Manor will each receive a gift card for their recycling efforts.

Recycling really does pay! Two West Sacramento multi-family residential complexes can attest to that. Earlier this year, The Rivers Senior Complex and Margaret McDowell Manor submitted entry forms for the "Cash for Recycling" contest. In September and October, their forms were randomly selected, and Waste Management and the City of West Sacramento staff evaluated the contents of their recycle bins and found them to be primarily recyclables.

PICKS OF THE WEEK

"Avatar" — Three-Disc Extended Collector's Edition (PG-13) — Fans of James Cameron's bajillion-dollar-grossing sci-fi epic finally are getting the mega-release they've been waiting for. This three-disc set contains more than three hours of special features; 45 minutes of deleted scenes and three versions of the film: The original theatrical release, the special edition re-release and an extended cut of the film featuring an alternate opening sequence that is exclusive to this DVD set. Also worth noting: Both the original and special edition edits come with a family-friendly soundtrack where all objectionable language has been removed.

"RoboGeisha" (NR) — From the makers of "Tokyo Gore Police" and "The Machine Girl" comes the latest swill in Japan's new wave of gory, low-budget, gonzo grindhouse flicks. The plots are ridiculous, the violence and gore is so over-the-top that it ceases to be shocking and becomes hilarious. Add to the mix some bad acting and laughable effects, and you've got yourself a recipe for good ol' cheesy fun.

"RoboGeisha" has all of those elements in spades. This story of two sisters recruited by a shadowy corporation that transforms the girls into cybernetic assassins features a duel fought with butt-blades, machine-gun boobs, a chick with a sawblade face and in the finale, a skyscraper that morphs into a killer robot. Seriously, who needs drugs when we have Japan?

"Modern Times" (Criterion Collection) (NR) — Made in 1936, well after sound had been established as the industry standard, "Modern Times" is considered the last, best silent film — and one of Charlie Chaplin's finest motion pictures. Set during the Great Depression, this romantic comedy about a factory worker driven mad by the soul-crushing tedium of his job and his infatuation with a beautiful homeless girl (Paulette Goddard) is notable for two pop-culture classics: The sequence of Chaplin being fed through a threading machine and his timeless song, "Smile." As this is a Criterion release, rest assured that the soundtrack and picture quality are top-shelf, as are the commentary tracks, special features and accompanying booklet.

Bloody Crimes: The Chase fo. Jefferson Davis and the Death Pageant for Lincoln's Corpse
by James Swanson
(William Morrow, $27.99)
Reviewed by Larry Cox

Bestselling author James Swanson gets as close to the subjects he writes about as possible. Much of his latest book, which documents the flight of Jefferson Davis following the fall of the Confederacy and the death of President Abraham Lincoln and its aftermath, was written in Ford Theatre and inside the Peterson house, where the president died.

Swanson conveys a sense of immediacy, even when writing about events that happened almost 150 years ago, through total immersion. To capture to mood of that distant April in 1865, he sifted through newspapers, letters, journals, court records, photographs and anything else he could find to help define both the period and its people.

"Blood Crimes" is actually two stories that unfolded that fateful month. One tracks Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederate States of America, who realized all might be lost when Richmond fell to Union forces. He fled the city with trusted cabinet members and vital documents for Danville, Va., hoping he might be able to rally Confederate troops to continue the fight. That dream was abruptly dashed when Lee surrendered on April 9 at Appomattox.

As Davis scrambled to find a safe haven, the nation mourned the death of Lincoln, and his funeral plans began. He was autopsied and embalmed in the White House guest room, and an elegant funeral train, named the United States, was outfitted for his eventual journey back to Springfield, Ill. Aboard the train, embalmer Dr. Charles Brown and undertaker Frank Sands worked steadily for 13 long days to keep at bay death's relentless companion: decomposing flesh. This was no easy task during this era of no refrigeration.

Swanson is a master storyteller who brings fresh perspectives and a deeper understanding of not just this turbulent period in American history, but also the legacy and legend of both Lincoln and Davis.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Your ruling planet, Mars, allows you to assume a sense of command that can help you turn a chaotic workplace situation into one that's orderly, productive and, yes, even friendly.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Getting a relationship that's been stuck in a rut up and running again depends on how far you want to run with it. Be honest with yourself as you consider which decision to make.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Be wary of rumors that seem to be coming from everywhere this week. Waiting for the facts before you act means never having to say you're sorry you followed the wrong lead.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) A difficult personal matter might prompt you to turn to a trusted friend to help you sort through a maze of emotional conflicts. The weekend should bring some welcome news.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Some of the new people coming into the Lion's life could play pivotal roles in future personal and professional matters. Meanwhile, an old friend might have an important message.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A delay in getting things moving on schedule can be a blessing in disguise. Use this extra time to do more research so you can buttress any of the weaker points with solid facts.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You might need to get involved in a personal matter before it becomes a serious problem. Also be wary of someone offering to mediate unless you can be sure of his or her motives.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Taking sides in a workplace or domestic dispute could prolong the problem. Stay out and stay cool. Then you can be friends with both parties when things settle down.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A friendship has the potential to become something more, and with this week's aspects favoring romance, you might feel that this possibility is worth exploring.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) The new job you want might require you to relocate. If so, keep an open mind and weigh all the positives and negatives before making your decision.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A new relationship seems to be everything you could have hoped for. Congratulations. Meanwhile, it's not too early to get some feedback on that new project you're working on.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You might have decided to get out of the fast-moving current and just float around hither and yon for a while. But you might find that the new opportunity is too tempting to turn down.

BORN THIS WEEK: You believe in bringing out the best in people with kind deeds, loving words and recognition of their "special" selves.

Casserole Comfort

Last weekend, my family discussed our plans for Thanksgiving. Since dinner is at my house this year, I'll handle the turkey and the dressing. My sister, Marcia, was asked to bring her fabulous sweet potato casserole. I started thinking about all the casseroles dishes that will be traveling from one place to another for Thanksgiving. While researching the topic, I discovered a photo of an ancient casserole dish in a museum in Athens. Casseroles, both the dish and various recipes, have a long and interesting culinary history.

There's some debate about the origin of the term "casserole," but most culinary historians think that it's from the French word for "saucepan." Casseroles come in a variety of styles, but what they all have in common is a large, deep dish used both in the oven and as a serving vessel. The word casserole also is used for the food cooked and served in the dish. The Oxford Encyclopedia of Food and Drink in America provides detailed information about casseroles:

"Casserole cookery has been around since prehistoric times, when it was discovered that cooking food slowly in a tightly covered clay vessel softened fibrous meats and blended succulent juices. ... With the addition or subtractions of leftovers or inexpensive cuts of meat, the casserole is flexible and economical in terms of both ingredients and effort. The classic casserole, a French dish, was originally made with a mound of cooked rice. Fannie Meritt Farmer's Boston Cooking School Cook Book (1896) had one casserole recipe, for Casserole of Rice and Meat, to be steamed for 45 minutes and served with tomato sauce. In the 20th century, casseroles took on a distinctive American identity. During the depression of the 1890s, the economic casserole provided a welcome way to stretch meat, fish and poultry. Certain items also were scarce during World War I, and leftovers were turned into casserole meals."

Modern casseroles, as we know them today, became popular during the Great Depression of the 1930s. Typically, casseroles are composed of a meat, starch, creamy sauce (after 1934, it was usually a creamed soup from a can) and a vegetable. Casseroles are an economical, one-pot meal during hard times. Starting in the 1950s, casseroles became an easy way for a busy cook to prepare the family meal ahead of time.

Today, casseroles have been updated to include a variety of ingredients from lobster and tofu to made-from-scratch sauces and locally grown vegetables. The shape, size and construction materials of casserole dishes also has changed over the centuries. However, the purpose of the casserole is still the same: to bring a familiar container of comfort food to the ones we love. Bring a little comfort to your family and friends in the form of this delicious sweet potato casserole that was inspired by my sister, Marcy.

MARCY'S SWEET POTATO AND PECAN CASSEROLE

Roasting the sweet potatoes and scooping out the pulp to use in this casserole provides the most delicious results. You also can microwave 3 to 4 large sweet potatoes for 10 to 15 minutes until tender and proceed as directed, or use canned sweet potatoes in this recipe.

- 3 cups cooked, mashed sweet potatoes
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 1/4 cup fresh orange juice
- 1/2 teaspoon orange zest
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 ground nutmeg
- 1/4 teaspoon ginger
- 1/4 cup marshmallow creme
- 1 egg, well-beaten
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/4 cup brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons butter, softened

2. Combine sweet potatoes, 2 tablespoons butter, orange juice and zest, salt, nutmeg, ginger and marshmallow creme. Beat in the egg and vanilla.

3. Coat a baking dish with remaining 1 tablespoon of butter. Scoop sweet potatoes into the baking dish.

4. In a small bowl, combine pecans, brown sugar, flour and butter, mixing until crumbly. Sprinkle the mixture over the sweet potatoes. Bake potatoes for 25 to 30 minutes until the topping is bubbly. Serves 6.

THE YOLO INDEPENDENT — FRIDAY, JULY 29, 19[illegible]

MANY FRIENDS BID MRS. EVANS FAREWELL AND GOOD LUCK

At the Moss home last Tuesday evening a great many old friends of Mrs. Sarah Evans assembled to bid her farewell.

She had sold her home and was about to move to Oakland to live with her daughter for her remaining years.

Her boy Alfred has been working in Oakland for several weeks, which fact really prompted the change.

Surprised and delighted at the evidence of good will Mrs. Evans enjoyed the evening thoroughly, yet as the evening drew to a close she dropped tears of regret for parting from so many old and tried friends.

The Moss home was filled to overflowing with Mrs. Evans' friends, among them being the Moss families, Dennis McClure, Porter Rodriguez and Woods, with Mrs. Evans and her son Alfred and daughter, Mrs. Harris.

The evening was spent in games and music, after which a luncheon was served and then the real event of the evening transpired.

Mrs. Evans' friends had clubbed together and purchased a handsome traveling bag. This was presented to her with much eclat and she promised to take care of it the balance of her life as a remembrance of old friends in Washington.

Mrs. Evans had been a resident of Washington over 45 years. During the past 40 years she lived in the home she sold last Tuesday. She was always a good neighbor and will be missed by many friends.

In this home she raised her children and cared for her husband, the late Tom Evans, who for many years was bridgeman for the S. P. Co.

Lately the weight of declining years bore heavily on Mrs. Evans. She decided, under persuasion, to go and live with her daughter, and the event of last Tuesday evening culminated the move.

The Evans home was bought by D. Brunelli.

YOLO CAUSEWAY AUTO WRECK SENT NINE TO HOSPITAL

Nine persons are in hospitals and one in the Yolo County Jail as the result of an automobile accident which occurred on the Yolo causeway early Sunday morning.

An automobile driven by W. E. Porch of the Coloma Hotel, Sacramento, crashed into the rear end of another machine, injuring six occupants of Porch's car. It is understood that Jose Escona, Vacaville merchant, was the driver of the second machine, while the identity of the third driver, who ran into the two wrecked machines, has not been ascertained.

Porch is held in the Yolo jail charged with reckless driving, while some members of the party are in local hospitals and others at Davis.

According to the driver of the machine hit by Porch, the local man was driving at a terrific rate of speed when the crash came. It was reported by Constable Lillard of Davis that there was a quantity of liquor in the car driven by Porch.

Some of the injured were treated at the Sacramento emergency hospital while others were taken to Davis.

The accident happened when two of the machines came together on the causeway. A third approached, and, it is said, ran into the two distressed automobiles. Among those injured were several women, all of whom were taken to Davis for treatment.

Those treated at the Sacramento emergency hospital were:

John Campos of Vacaville, lacerations of chin and forehead.

Those treated at Davis were:

Alice James, 1027 I street.

Thelmar James, 1027 I street.

Edna Downer, 1027 I street.

Ray Craig, a sailor from Mare Island.

The driver of the third car made a quick escape, and it is thought the machine may have been stolen from San Francisco. Its number showed it to be the property of J. W. Leavitt of the bay city.

Roy R. Downer, husband of one of the injured women, will start suit against Porch, it was said last night. Mrs. Downer is said to have protested at the excessive rate of speed at which the car was traveling.

RICE MEN ARE PROMISED FINANCIAL AID TO TIDE THEM OVER

Appointed Mnaager of the Pacific Rice Growers' Association last Tuesday, J. M. Inman is hurrying to frame a plan for financing and marketing of the 1921 crop.

Negotiations for securing a $2,000,000 loan for the benefit of the growers already have been started, and at a meeting to be held in San Francisco, Inman said he hoped to reach some definite understanding with a large banking institution regarding conditions of the plan.

Financial assistance also is expected by Inman from banks in the Sacramento Valley. This matter was discussed with representatives of several banking institutions and as a result prospects of securing the desired co-operation are declared to be favorable.

The next meeting of the Board of Directors is scheduled for Monday, at which time it is expected the question of finances will be given additional attention. It is also probable that the directors at this meeting will appoint a new President to succeed Joseph H. Stephens, who has asked to be relieved of the duties owing to the pressure of other business.

"HOPHEADS" FROM SACRAMENTO ARE BEING DRIVEN BACK

The strenuous campaign against drug addicts made by the police of Sacramento under Chief Barney McShane has driven many of the derelicts to this side of the river.

Where a few drunks formerly wandered across the bridges and slept off their sprees in the jungles hundreds of drug fiends are getting out of town to infest other communities.

They must have dope and to procure it they steal or hold up citizens.

Their cravings are so acute that they don't stop at murder to get their favorite brand of dope.

Constable Buckingham has arrested several and took them to Woodland in an effort to cure them.

Many others he sent back across the bridges with his compliments to Barney McShane.

The terrible condition of some of these poor wretches is past description. Last Wednesday one man was found bathing in the river near the M-street bridge. Every portion of his body was covered with needle pricks showing how he had been using his favorite drug.

He declared that when he could get no more beer or whiskey he took up dope as a substitute and gradually dwindled to a veritable wreck.

He is authority for the saying, "Fifty out of every 100 men on the farms of Yolo County are using dope since they can't get beer or whiskey."

This, of course, is somewhat exaggerated, but he was surely a bad example of the results of prohibition.

Householders have been cautioned to lock their premises to avoid loss through the peculations of these marauders.

GLIDES PAY BIG TAX, REDUCING COUNTY DELINQUENCY.

The Yolo County delinquent taxes for the year just closed were reduced considerably on July 19th when the Glide interests of West Sacramento paid into the county $8686.58, being the largest individual item of the small delinquency. The payment of this sum, according to Bob Woods, reduced the delinquency to normal, or if anything a little less than last year.

In addition, the City is authorized to act as the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) "responsible entity" for the project and will be the lead agency for compliance with NEPA (see 24 Code of Federal Regulations [CFR] §58.2). Project Location

The project site consists of approximately 15 acres on formerly used industrial land at 3125 Industrial Boulevard at the Port of West Sacramento (Port) within the city limits of West Sacramento in Yolo County, California. The Port is located approximately 0.5 mile south of U.S. Highway 50 and 1.25 miles west of Interstate 5, and is bounded by Industrial Boulevard to the north and east, the Sacramento Deep Water Ship Channel (SDWSC) and turning basin to the south, and Lake Washington to the west. The project site is located in the northwestern portion of the Port facility.

Project Background

WCRG is seeking a conditional use permit from the City of West Sacramento and a ground lease from the Port of West Sacramento to construct and operate a scrap metal shredding and recycling facility at the Port. Operations at the facility would include scrap metal sorting and scrap metal shredding, material separation and processing to extract usable material, and stabilization of nonmetallic material to make it useful as sanitary day cover in landfills. The vehicles that are to be shredded on-site will already have been dismantled by other companies to remove vehicle fluids, tires, batteries, and reusable parts. The facility would be a state of the art design, with modern emission controls, and an industrial stormwater system to capture and reuse rainwater. Estimated project cost is $34 million.

In addition, the City of West Sacramento has applied for an over-the-counter grant from the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program administered by the California Department of Housing and Community Development Department, and funded by HUD. This grant would fund design and construction of a new main entrance to the Port located on the south side of Industrial Boulevard west of the Port's current main entrance and east of Beacon Boulevard. This new entrance would act as the vehicle access point for the WCRG project and will be evaluated as part of the EIR/EIS.

Project Description

The West Coast Recycling Group (WCRG) proposes to develop approximately 15 acres at the Port of West Sacramento (Port) in the city of West Sacramento to construct and operate a scrap metal shredding and recycling facility. The project site is on formerly used industrial land at 3125 Industrial Boulevard in Yolo County, California. The Port is located approximately 0.5 mile south of U.S. Highway 50 and 1.25 miles west of Interstate 5, and is bounded by Industrial Boulevard to the north and east, the Sacramento Deep Water Ship Channel (SDWSC) and turning basin to the south, and Lake Washington to the west. The project site is located in the northwestern portion of the Port facility.

Much of the approximately 15-acre project site was previously used as a log export yard. A portion of the site is currently being used as a concrete recycling facility. The remainder of the property is currently composed of vacant industrial land and a heavy equipment storage area. Predominant land uses in the vicinity of the project site are industrial. Land uses adjacent to and surrounding the Port include industrial facilities, warehouses, a firehouse, office buildings, and other commercial land uses. Residential land uses are located south and east of the Port.

The project would require a conditional use permit from the City of West Sacramento and a ground lease from the Port of West Sacramento.

Operations at the proposed facility would include scrap metal sorting and scrap metal shredding, material separation and processing to extract usable material, and stabilization of nonmetallic material to make it useful as sanitary day cover in landfills. The vehicles that are to be shredded on-site will already have been dismantled by other companies to remove vehicle fluids, tires, batteries, and reusable parts. The facility would be a state-of-the-art design, with modern emission controls, and an industrial storm water system to capture and reuse rainwater.

A portion of the metal material delivered for shredding at the facility would include retired automobiles or end-of-life vehicles. However, other sources of scrap metal would also be shredded such as appliances, agricultural equipment, and industrial scrap metal. The scrap metal may be bailed or placed into bins for transport.

The project includes design and construction of a new main Port entrance from Industrial Boulevard. The new entrance would be located west of the current main entrance at Harbor Boulevard and approximately 350 feet east of the Beacon Drive/Industrial Boulevard intersection (centerline to centerline).

The proposed metal recycling facility would process automobiles and scrap metals through the shredder at an average hourly throughput of 170 gross tons, with a maximum of 220 gross tons per hour. The maximum daily shredder throughput is estimated to be 1,760 gross tons per day. The monthly throughput is estimated to be 25,000 gross tons.

Probable Environmental Effects of the Proposed Project

The following subject areas will be analyzed in the combined EIS/EIR for probable environmental effects: aesthetics (including light and glare); air quality; biological resources; climate change/greenhouse gases; cultural resources; geology and soils; paleontology; hazards and hazardous materials; hydrology and water quality; land use; noise and vibration; population, employment, and housing; public services; recreation; transportation and traffic; utilities and service systems; environmental justice; cumulative impacts; and growth-inducing impacts.

Alternatives

Consistent with the requirements of the State CEQA Guidelines §15126.6, and §1502.14 of the Council on Environmental Quality Regulations implementing NEPA, the EIR/EIS will examine a range of reasonable alternatives to the proposed project that are potentially feasible. The alternatives must feasibly attain most of the objectives of the proposed project while also avoiding or substantially lessening at least one of the significant environmental effects of the proposed project. As required by NEPA, the alternatives will be evaluated at the same level of detail as the proposed project. As a result of the scoping and agency consultation efforts conducted to date, the alternatives currently proposed for evaluation in the EIR/EIS include:

1. No Project/Action Alternative. This alternative, required by both CEQA and NEPA, would evaluate the environmental impacts if the proposed project were not constructed and existing operations on the project site were to continue.
2. Proposed Project. This alternative would evaluate the proposed project as described in the Project Description.
3. One or more other alternatives (to be identified). Alternative(s) will be based on input received during the scoping process and feasible project options that could minimize or avoid significant environmental effects. These alternatives may possibly include a reduced project alternative and/or an alternative site, and will be identified during the scoping process.

One of the purposes of the NOI is to solicit input from the public, agencies, Indian tribes, and interested organizations regarding potential alternatives to the proposed project. Therefore, the City welcomes comments during the public scoping process regarding these alternatives or suggestions for other alternatives to be examined in the EIR/EIS.

Submission of Comments

To ensure that the full range of project issues of interest to responsible, trustee, and other agencies and the public are addressed, comments and suggestions are invited from all interested parties. Written comments or questions concerning the EIR/EIS should be directed to the City's environmental project manager at the address provided on the first page of this notice by 5:00 p.m. on December 3, 2010. Please provide the name and address of a contact person who should receive future correspondence regarding the project.

Crime prevention tips from the Yolo County District Attorney's Office

The General Criminal unit recommends the following tips to help keep you safe:

1) Do not leave your purse, wallet, checkbook, cell phone, laptop or other valuables in your car – even if it's parked in your driveway.

2) Know what you are drinking at a party – Watch as your drink is made and don't leave it unattended.

3) Before you post pictures or other personal information of yourself on social networking sites, remember that many people such as future employers or strangers may see it.

4) If you own a business, check your bookkeeping and finances regularly to make sure you know where your money is.

5) When you go on vacation, make absolutely sure you know that the person taking care of your home is trustworthy and won't have people over you don't know.
